

Valmik Karam

Valmik Karam is a class of 2015 graduate of the University of Redlands, where he earned his degree in Business Administration. Since then, he's built a career at the intersection of finance and infrastructure, earning his MBA from Cornell University and currently serving as a Commercial Project Manager at Siemens in Sacramento.

Valmik is passionate about creating long-term impact—whether through complex infrastructure projects or meaningful community engagement. He's excited to give back to the Redlands community by serving on the Alumni Board and helping strengthen the connection between current students and alumni. Outside of work, you'll find him traveling, volunteering locally, or catching a basketball game.
