David Moreland, saxophone

David (Tre') James Moreland III was born and raised in Redlands, California. He attended Redlands East Valley High School where he served as Drum Major for the Marching Band and played saxophone in the Wind Ensemble and Jazz Band. Following his graduation from East Valley High School, Tre' attended Riverside Community College and Northwestern State University in Louisiana.

Upon his return to Redlands, Mr. Moreland began teaching in the Redlands Unified School District working with Mr. Jeff Apmadoc (also a University of Redlands graduate) as a Woodwind Specialist. In this position he teaches saxophone and clarinet in the Elementary instrumental music program. It was during his teaching opportunity that David found he really loved to share his knowledge and love of music. In January 2013, David entered the School of Music at the University of Redlands where he is a junior in the Music Education program. David performs in the Wind Ensemble, top Saxophone Quartet and the Studio Jazz Band.

Following his graduation and completion of his teaching credential, David wants to further broaden his teaching experience at the Middle and High School levels (here in Redlands, hopefully). Long term professional goals include attaining appropriate Masters and Doctoral degrees and teaching at the University level while continuing to perform on saxophone. David is a student of Dr. Eddie Smith.

Dorothy Robbins, piano

Pianist Dorothy Robbins is able to captivate an audience with her poignant and dramatic musical style. Her skill in extracting the utmost character from the notes on the page immerses her listeners in flowing melody, pulsing rhythms, and shifting moods. A native of Palm Springs, CA, Ms. Robbins is a junior at the University of Redlands pursuing a Bachelor of Music degree in piano performance. Ms. Robbins, a recipient of the Mary E. Lehigh Endowed Music Grant, currently studies with respected Artist in Residence, Louanne Long.

Ms. Robbins has been competing and performing in public since age 13, both as soloist and as accompanist. She is a graduate of the acclaimed Idyllwild Arts Academy, which she attended from the age of 15. As a teenager she was invited to participate in the Oberlin International Youth Piano Competition.

Ms. Robbins is a dynamic musician whose talents extend beyond the piano. Prior to coming to the University of Redlands she was a composition major at California Institute of the Arts where her original works were regularly premiered in the Roy O. Disney Auditorium. Although piano has always been her first love since beginning lessons as a child with Marilee Uhls of Palm Desert, Ms. Robbins is also proficient on the cello, clarinet, guitar, harp, voice, and percussion. A former member of middle school and high school bands, she performed on the clarinet and cello during an inspiring trip to Denmark and Scotland with the Palm Spring High School marching and symphonic bands. Ms. Robbins continues to use her intimate understanding of other instruments, as well as her knowledge in composition, to bring depth and vitality to her piano playing.

Ms. Robbins displays her passion for the piano and love of music whether executing a fiery and articulated run along the keyboard, or finding creative ways to provide individualized instruction to her 15 private piano students. The two recitals she holds a year for her students are well-attended and a way for her to display her students' talents and appreciation to their parents. Performance is an integral part of nearly every musician's life. Ms. Robbins wants her students to learn to do it without fear; her goal is to make it a fun and rewarding experience for them.
